Purebred bull with scurs (no papers). Sometimes things happen, don't sell him short. Not many bulls start out that small and gain and turn out like 0155! Consider his 42 cm nuts, he will be dangerous in the breeding field. A very worthy bull that will sell below his value. Don't be caught snoozing.

We decided to AI some heifers in 2009 and decided to use 113X. 113X was the 2nd Red Angus animal we owned. We paid $6000 for him because he had a super mother and he ranked 1st out of 160 bulls on test at Canadian Dynamite Breeders. We never appreciated 113X for about 10 yrs, then we noticed just how good his daughters are. They had good feet, produced above average calves & lasted. Wow, not many didn't last to 10 years old. He would calve to heifers. Here we are - there will be more in the future.

0003X is in a league all of his own! First, Why January 1 birthdate? Well, we went to a dispersal and bought 2 super good mature cows. Curtis got K22 and Joni got 13L. They both calved in January that year, so they were around the barn. In the spring of 2009 we realized we weren't going to get the use of Blackman so we decided to breed K22 and 13L back to calve in January. K22 is as good an all around producer as there is! She calves easy, milks lots, is broody and easy fleshing and is worthy to mother a herd bull! Personally, I would like to keep 0003 but he belongs to Curtis (our son), so here he is. We've had some damn good 224R sons in the past but none better! In selecting a herd bull we look at all the good things but more importantly, try to find flaws. Life is all about compromises and there are darn few in 0003X. If 0003X was mine, he wouldn't be in the sale. The bull speaks for himself. Both a testament to his Sire and Dam. You will cherish 0003X more as time goes along. You won't realize the true value until his daughters are in production.

Super heifer bull off 224R. Sire 224R, mature weight 2750 lbs. but yet was a heifer bull. We bred him naturally and A.I.'d him to heifers and I don't recall ever pulling a calf. The calves were consistently in the 70's and 80 lb. range. More importantly, the calves are long and streamlined. I don't ever recall a 224R in the 90 lb. range. The bonus is the udders on the 224R daughters. Dam 8114 is sired by 33N who sired very structurally correct, good uddered females. When Hollbrook Angus dispersed, we went and bought the 13L cow (dam to 33N), who is a very good producing cow still at 10 plus years of age.

Big bodied, long spined, and smooth with big nuts. Dam 3005 is sharp fronted, long bodied, wedge shaped and perfect uddered. One could write a page on the maternal side with Omaha Clint going back to Traveler 1148 who sired Traveler 71. Bruno 561G sired females that topped Stevenson's Sales each year. They milk and produce.

270X is one of my favorites in the sale. The more I analyze him the more I like him. Maternally- 3101N with Alliance 6595 and EXT. is flat flawless! Her udder structure and teat size is perfect. I'm sure that comes from EXT. But unlike most EXT daughters (Tigers), she is super quiet. 3101 is a foundation builder and she gets it from 0009K!

Dam 2084 is a big bodied, deep, huge spring of rib, good footed, heavy milking 6596 daughter. Consider her production, she mothered four Prophecy sons in 2009, 2010, 2011, and now 2012. If you looked at the pictures of the four full sibs, you realize you could have used the same picture all four times. They are all meat wagons. Sire: Prophecy 4P - We, at this point, are going to sell seven Prophecy sons. Different ages, same muscle pattern, same type. We have nicknamed 4P (Super tanker). In his prime he weighed 2670 lbs. but was a frame score 5. He breeds 100% true every time. Same shape, same style. 4P will add lbs, carcass, weaning weight, and yield. 4P will not add frame! 4P will compliment cattle that need muscle and thickness. I find myself looking at the 4P sons and saying they are too small and then I weigh them (they are heavy!). When you weigh cattle you soon realize weight is in cubic inches of volume - not frame size. The bonus is the 4P daughters which have good udders and are heavy milkers (no wonder-going back to Bruno 561G).
